Real Estate Predictions for 2020

Interest Rates will Remain LOW.

Forecasts from Freddie Mac and the Mortgage Bankers Association back this up, both predicting 2020 rates within this range.

Fannie Mae actually predicts rates will clock in even lower, vacillating between 3.5% and 3.6% throughout the year.

Prices Will INCREASE.

According to the latest home price forecast from property data firm CoreLogic, home prices should tick up to 5.6% by next September—up from the just 3.5% jump we saw this year.

Inventory will be TIGHT.

Many Baby Boomers have decided to age in place and therefore an impact on the available inventory.

Millennials will keep up their home buying streak, while Boomers hold up inventory.
